

Utilities Portfolio

SERIES 11

UNIT INVESTMENT TRUSTS

Investment Objective and Principal Investment Strategy

The Utilities Portfolio, Series 11 ("Trust") seeks to provide a high level of income with a secondary objective of capital growth. The Trust consists of 29 stocks classified as being in the Utilities Sector by the Global Industry Classification Standard ("GICS"). The Trust is diversified across the Utilities Sector including integrated electric, pipeline and gas distribution companies. The Sponsor selects stocks for the Trust that it believes have the potential to achieve the Trust's investment objective.

Security Selection

Companies are selected for the Trust from within the Utilities sector by examining factors that include, but are not limited to:

- Products and/or services offered by the companies;
- The competitive environment;
- Research and development capabilities;
- Potential acquisitions;
- Financing; and
- A fundamental and technical equity valuation assessment.

By examining these factors the Sponsor hopes to identify companies for the Trust that represent the best relative values in the Utilities Sector.

Long-Term Strategy

This UIT is part of a long-term strategy. Please consider your ability to invest in successive portfolios, if available, at the applicable sales charge. Call your financial professional today or visit claymore.com to learn more.

Why Utilities May Be Bright Addition to Your Portfolio

The Sponsor believes that utilities stock can play a valuable role in helping to optimize portfolio performance, particularly in today's uncertain environment. Following are several reasons why the Sponsor feels an investment in the utilities sector may bring added balance to a portfolio and help it better weather current market conditions.

- Non-cyclical—Utility companies are considered defensive or non-cyclical investments because demand for the services they provide—water, gas and electric—tends to be consistent regardless of economic conditions. For this reason, utilities stocks often outperform cyclical stocks in an uncertain or challenging market environment.
- Income—Utilities stocks have long been valued for the income they provide, through both interest and dividends. In a low interest-rate environment, the Sponsor believes utilities stocks may offer more competitive dividend yields than cyclical stocks.
- Performance—The Sponsor believes that utilities companies often benefit when the economy is moderating because interest rates are typically lower, thereby lowering the cost for the companies to service their debt.
- Growth potential—Beyond the stable income stream they offer, utilities stocks also offer growth potential. Demand for electricity continues to grow and according to the Annual Energy Outlook 2009, is expected to increase across all sectors (commercial, residential and industrial) an average of 1% per year through 2030.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS As with all investments, you may lose some or all of your investment in the Trust. No assurance can be given that the Trust's investment objective will be achieved. The Trust also might not perform as well as you expect. This can happen for reasons such as these: Securities prices can be volatile. The value of your investment may fall over time. Market value fluctuates in response to various factors. These can include stock market movements, purchases or sales of securities by the Trust, government policies, litigation, and changes in interest rates, inflation, the financial condition of the securities' issuer or even perceptions of the issuer. Units of the Trust are not deposits of any bank and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other government agency. Due to the current state of the economy, the value of the securities held by the Trust may be subject to steep declines or increased volatility due to changes in performance or perception of the issuers. In the last year, economic activity has declined across all sectors of the economy, and the United States is experiencing increased unemployment. The current economic crisis has affected the global economy with European and Asian markets also suffering historic losses. Extraordinary steps have been taken by the governments of several leading economic countries to combat the economic crisis; however, the impact of these measures is not yet known and cannot be predicted. Share prices or dividend rates on the securities in the Trust may decline during the life of the Trust. There is no guarantee that the issuers of stocks will declare dividends in the future and, if declared, RISK CONSIDERATIONS CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE

RISK CONSIDERATIONS (CONTINUED) whether they will remain at current levels or increase over time. The Trust includes securities from the utilities sector. Adverse developments in this sector may significantly affect the value of your units. Companies involved in the utilities sector must contend with environmental considerations, taxes, government regulation, price and supply fluctuations, competition and energy conservation. The Trust invests in securities issued by small-capitalization and mid-capitalization companies. These securities customarily involve more investment risk than securities of large-capitalization companies. Small-capitalization and mid-capitalization companies may have limited product lines, markets or financial resources and may be vulnerable to adverse general market or economic developments. Inflation may lead to a decrease in the value of assets or income from investments. The Sponsor does not actively manage the portfolio. The Trust will generally hold, and may continue to buy, the same securities even though a security's outlook, market value or yield may have changed. Please see the Trust prospectus for more complete risk information.

UITs are fixed and not actively managed. An investment in this fixed portfolio should be made with an understanding of the risks involved with owning various types of investments. Industry predictions may not materialize and securities selected for the Trust may not participate in overall industry growth, if any. There is no guarantee that the portfolio will achieve its investment objective. Units, when redeemed, may be worth more or less than their original purchase price.

This UIT is part of a long-term strategy, and investors should consider their ability to invest in successive portfolios, if available, at the applicable sales charge. There are tax consequences associated with an investment from one series to the next. Investors should consult their tax advisor to determine tax consequences associated with an investment from one portfolio to the next. Units of the portfolio may be well suited for purchase by Individual Retirement Accounts or other qualified retirement plans. Consult an attorney or tax advisor regarding tax consequences associated with the purchase of units. Claymore Securities, Inc. does not offer tax advice.
